

Have you created an ameli account? It's a secure personal area that makes everything health-related simpler!

This is an important year that has brought many changes to your social protection, meaning you can now manage it on your own. Here's how to get all of your reimbursements, and fast!

What is an ameli account for?

This is a secure personal area that you can log in to from a computer, smartphone, or tablet to access all of the French health insurance system ("l'Assurance Maladie")'s online services. The ameli app is available on App Store and Google Play.

You can use it to:

- Check your health care reimbursements;
- Download your certificate of entitlement, which you can use if you don't have your health insurance card ("carte Vitale") on you;
- Order a French health insurance card ("carte Vitale") or report it as lost or stolen;
- Order a European health insurance card (EHIC);
- Update and manage your personal information (address, phone number, email address, banking information, etc.);
- Chat with amelibot (the French health insurance system's chatbot, which can answer all your questions and help you through your online paperwork, or email one of our caseworkers directly).

How do I create one?

To open an ameli account, you will need to have been issued with your permanent French Social Security number (NIR). You will then need to call 3646 (no surcharge) to get a temporary code by phone. Once your account is open, you will be able to access all of our online services, which also means you can track the production of your French health insurance card (while you are waiting for your "carte Vitale", you can download your certificate of entitlement as proof of membership in the French health insurance system to show to health care professionals, etc.)
